Mr. Slimowicz will be moderating and speaking in two separate panel discussions.

The first panel entitled: "Emerging Developments in Environmental Insurance: Challenges, Trends and the Impact on the Brownfield Development", where risk mitigation and insurance solutions will be discussed and analyzed. The Panel will include Chief Executives of many of the major environmental insurance providers in the marketplace today.

The second panel entitled: "CERCLA and PRP Contribution Claims: Making Cost Recovery Work for you", will explore many of the critical considerations of cost-recovery, including historical insurance, CERCLA and pursuing claims against PRP's.

"Anthony's participation is a continued demonstration of our Firms involvement, at the highest levels, in the Environmental Insurance and Development Arena" said Kevin J. O'Toole, Managing Partner of OFWV.

Both panels will examine not only risk management and fiscal strategies but also important tactics to use in the early stages of assessment and litigation. Using fact patterns from actual cases, the presenters will place attendees in the context of real decisions, providing the benefits of interesting discussion, incorporation of real-world factors, and ability to see actual outcomes.
